

Fact: In primary school, you spend about 635 hours a year in school

Fact: The average salary of a teacher in the UK is around £27,000

In What Ways Is School Like A Job?

In What Ways Is School Not Like a Job?

This House Believes Children Should Be Paid To Go To School

- Where would the money to pay children come from?
- Would 5 year olds get paid the same as 15 year olds?
- Would you like school more if you got paid to attend?
- What might you spend the money on?
- Would it be bad if children only thought school was good because they got money for going?
- Why do adults get paid to work?
- Would it teach you how to be responsible for money?
- Could you be paid less if you didn't do your homework or were late to school?
- Would it help children from poor families?
- Would you take school more seriously if you were paid?
- Would you treat your teacher differently if they were paying you to attend school?
- How much should children be paid?