

Linklaters Debate Challenge
This house would only eat food that was produced in Britain

What is your favourite fruit? Could it grow in Britain?

What did you eat and drink today? Where was it from?

Is it important to have lots of different types of food?

Try to find out the airmiles of different foods in the supermarket

Some foods are important to cultures or religions. What are they and can they be produced in Britain?

Are there better things to do with the land than grow food?

How much food gets thrown away every year?

Who needs your money more, British farmers or foreign farmers?

Are there different ways of growing a variety of foods in Britain? Are they all environmentally friendly?

Do you grow any of your own food? If not, why not?